Temple Wedding For Arlene Hudson and Golden Harker

Arlene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Hudson of Raymond and Golden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harker of Magrath exchanged marriage vows on Thursday, March 26th at the Alberta Temple with President Cahoon officiating.

The bride was lovely in a corded nylon sheer dress of ballerina length with a three quarter length veil falling from a dainty beaded coronet. Her bouquet was of red roses, white carnations and tiny white trailing blossoms.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue taffeta frock and a corsage of pink carnations, although the groom's mother was unable to be present due to ill health.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony, for their relatives with Mesdames Donna Meldrum, Ruth Kesler and Ida Longbotham in charge of the delightful luncheon. The placecard holders were wishbones in pink and white and the wedding cake was decorated with lilies.

Open house was held the remainder of the afternoon for friends who had been unable to extend their wishes earlier. Mrs. Ruth Kesler was in charge of the Guest Book and made the presentation of it to the newlyweds before they left on their honeymoon to Great Falls.

The bride chose a blue jersey dress to which was pinned a corsage of tulle roses, brown accessories and a rosewood coat for the trip.

The young couple will make their home in Magrath this summer.

Dan Atwood who has been attending Agricultural College at Vermilion, returned home Tuesday night. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Atwood met him in Lethbridge.

About twenty guests had a hilarious time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wilde when they entertained at a White Elephant Crazy Rook party Saturday evening. The person taking the widow was just as apt to have to give his hand to the person next to him, as not, or receive a pair of curling irons as their prize. Incidentally, only those having a low score were allowed to choose his prize from the pile of wrapped parcels on the table.

After Rook, a delectable chicken supper was served the Jack Kennys, Ted Meeks, Gerald Harker, Murray Holts, Mirza Packs, Ralph Meldrums, Dean Rolfsens and Virginia Rolfsen.

Mrs. June Allred of Lethbridge was a guest at the home of her brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Allred last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Selk entertained at a Court Whist Party Saturday evening with a gay time being had by the Grant Fawns, Bob Browns, Earl Hartleys, Walter Cliftons, Dean Heggies, Bert and Jim Stills, Merle Stevens, Mel Richardsons and Milo Douglass.

Prizes were awarded to Molly Clifton and Earl Hartley for High Scores and to Edna Brown and Merle Stevens for Low, after which a tasty lunch of meat loaf and rolls and ice cream and cake was served.

Women Play Major Part In Cancer Research

Canadian women are playing a larger role in the crusade against cancer than in any other form of medical progress. This is particularly interesting in view of the fact that women stand to benefit most by immediate advances in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer. That is to say more than twice as many women as men tend to develop forms of cancer in which present methods of therapy are most effective and which are amenable to diagnostic techniques likely to make great strides in the next few years.

Women outnumber men in executive positions in the provincial divisions of the Canadian Cancer Society, and form the great majority of the thousands of volunteer workers who make possible the Society's welfare and education program across the country.

The Canadian Cancer Society has united Canada's cancer efforts. In addition to welfare and education, the Society provides major financial support for the 70 cancer research projects in fourteen Canadian Universities and medical centres from coast to coast, sponsored by the National Cancer Institute of Canada, with which the Society is affiliated.

In research, too, Canadian women are playing a prominent part. For example, the far-reaching recommendations of the Institute's special committee on radiation therapy standards were arrived at under the chairmanship of Dr. Ethlyn Trapp of Vancouver.

The newest and one of the most powerful radiation therapy methods against cancer is the Cobalt bomb, the largest unit using atomic power derived directly from the Canadian uranium.

A former Raymondite, Mrs. Forrest Packard (nee Esther Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alma Carter) is enjoying fame in Idaho as one of the candidates of The Mother of the Year, and there'll not be many who can beat her record.

She is the mother of seventeen children, fifteen of whom are living and all of whom have a good musical education. Each one of the eleven boys as they have come of age has completed or is completing a mission for the LDS Church and they all have a University Education, or are now attending University. Most of them have studied Dentistry, through two are in the Navy and on son has a position at Metro-Goldwin-Mayer.

While her husband was a prisoner in a Japanese Prison Camp for four years, Mrs. Packard opened a Corseteire Shop to support her family, and she has now enlarged her business to include a Dress Shop in Boise which she still manages.

Mrs. C. A. Finch, who is Mrs. Packard's cousin, says that her home is always neat and their children affectionate and well disciplined.

The Mother of the Year is chosen by a panel of judges who base their decision on the number of letters received for each candidate, and of course their own judgement. If there are any of her friends who would care to write on her behalf, the letters should be addressed to:

Grace Johnson And Grant Litchfield Wed In Cardston Temple

On Thursday, March 26th, Grace Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Roy Coleman and the late Mr. Johnson of Magrath, exchanged marriage vows with Grant Litchfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Litchfield of Raymond, at the Alberta Temple, President Lloyd Cahoon officiated in the presence of close friends and relatives.

From 7:30 to 9:30 their many friends and relatives called at the Magrath Assembly Hall to extend their congratulations and best wishes to the newly weds.

The radiant bride chose a gown fashioned with a lovely lace bodice, long lily point sleeves and a peter pan collar, while the full skirt was of nylon tricot over satin with matching lace panels. Her dainty finger tip veil cascaded from a coronet edged with nylon tricot and lily of the valley, and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Della Johnson, as bridesmaid wore a light green gown to which was pinned a corsage of pink roses and white carnations. Mrs. Coleman wore a moss green crepe frock while the groom's mother chose a grey dressmaker suit and their corsages were tulle roses and pink roses respectively.

The Groom's Best Man was his brother Bert of Lethbridge.

Tessy Gruninger presided at the Guest Book while Ruth Johnson, Hazel Gorham and Lorraine Litchfield accepted and arranged the many gifts. The guests were ushered to the dainty decorated tables by Margaret Leishman and Alice Low, and served by Alice Fay Rasmussen and Margaret Curio. The Bride's Table was beautifully decorated with the wedding cake centering it and the silver and crystal gifts on either side. A touch of Spring was added with daffodils and pussy willows about the room.

Alice Fay Rasmussen was Master of Ceremonies for the entertaining program which consisted of a solo by Nelda Litchfield, followed by a musical Reading "Why Do I Love You" by Ruth Johnson, accompanied by Freda Fletcher who also accompanied her husband Nyal's violin solo. Miss Carlson of Lethbridge sang "Because" as one of her vocal numbers after which Doug Clark of Lethbridge sang a Scottish song with heavy accent and all as well as a comic Reading. Elizabeth Spencer, Berle Dean Bly, Deanne Rasmussen and Yvonne Carter entertained with a song about the bride and groom composed by Mrs. Rasmussen, which concluded the program.

After their honeymoon trip to central Utah where they will sight-see as well as attend Conference, they will make their home on the groom's farm near Raymond.

Rotary Plays Well Received - Help For Library Fund

Those who took advantage of the opportunity presented by the Raymond Rotary Club to see the two one-act plays on Thursday night were well-repaid for their efforts to be there. Both "The Maker of Dreams" and "The Confessional" were very well received by the relatively small crowd present.

"O Canada" started the program off followed by remarks by Rotary President Lincoln Wood, who told of our library being one of the best in the province for a town of this size. This excellence is in both the administration and in the quality and quantity of the books. Lincoln paid high tribute to Mrs. Rayo Woolf who has guided the destiny of the library for a number of years. The audience showed that it agreed with the words of Mr. Wood by its hearty hand of applause.

There are 11,763 books in the local library with about one-third of these being reference texts. There are about 800 regular borrowers who take out about 2,000 books per month. This popularity of the library shows a very healthy interest in books by local and district citizens but it also creates a severe problem of overcrowding—both in books and reading space. Also each Spring great care has to be taken or many books will be lost to the water that generally finds its way down the basement.

For many years an interested group have been trying to have a new library built here but without too much success. The Rotary Club was approached and has spearheaded a drive for a new building. Of course an undertaking of this size is too much for one club to handle so it was made into a community project with all groups and organizations in town being asked to participate in the building of what will be a Memorial Library. Anyone wishing to have the name of a friend or relative engraved on a plaque to be attached to the front of the building should contact a member of the Library building committee. Lincoln paid tribute to the Town Council who have co-operated fully with the Rotary Club in this effect.

Tenders have been sent out for the construction of the new library that will be added onto the north side of the Town Hall and will have a similar appearance to that of the addition onto the Lethbridge Public Library. About three-quarters of the cost of the building has been raised and the promoters of this project are in high hopes that the remainder will be in hand in the not too distant future.

Curtain time arrived and with it came the introduction of the plays. Mr. Wood also told the audience of the presence of Mrs. Elodia Christensen, President of the Alberta Drama League and H. Dean Rolfsen, Recording Secretary of the League. Adjudicators for the plays were Miss Davidson and Miss Reed of Lethbridge.

And the curtain was raised on "The Maker of Dreams" by Oliphant Downs. This was a fantasy with Arlie Hudson playing the part of "The Maker of Dreams" with Pat Strong as Peirett and Kay Salmon as Peirett. The background music was played by Mrs. Connie Grant. H. Myron Holmes, who directed both plays was assisted with this one by Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Dahl.

During the intermission Lincoln introduced Charles "Buddy" Jones of Lethbridge who played "Soaring" by Shuman; "Waltz" by Frank Bridge; "Etude in E Major" by Chopin and "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" as piano solos—a real musical treat for the audience.

"The Confessional" with John Allen as Baldwin, Dora King as his wife, Derald Miller as his son, Margaret Jacobs as his daughter, Myron Holmes as Marshal and Pat Strong as the maid was then presented. Mr. and Mrs. Alma Hancock assisted Myron with this production.

After the curtain had been lowered on "The Confessional" H. Dean Rolfsen introduced the adjudicators. Miss Davidson, who was very kind in her remarks about the two plays. Congratulations were offered to both casts and she said that Raymond should be very proud to have such talent. One play, she said, from a town like this would be wonderful but to have two of them was really superb. In her adjudication of "The Maker of Dreams" she said that it was artistically and sensitively played with some missed lines. The pace was kept well but a little more contrast was needed in spots. All in all it was well done. "The Confessional" had the characters well established from the beginning and although the grouping was a bit awkward the pace was good with the ending remarkably well done.

Miss Davidson said that both plays had a lot of good points but in her opinion "The Maker of Dreams" should be sent to Cardston for the Festival there.

Just before "God Save the Queen" Lincoln extended the thanks and appreciation of the Rotary Club to all those who participated in making the presentation of these plays such a success.

Little Girl Suffers Painful Injury

Relatives in town have received sad news from Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum Fromm in Great Falls to the effect that their three year old daughter, Hyla Rae, was accidentally shot in the eye.

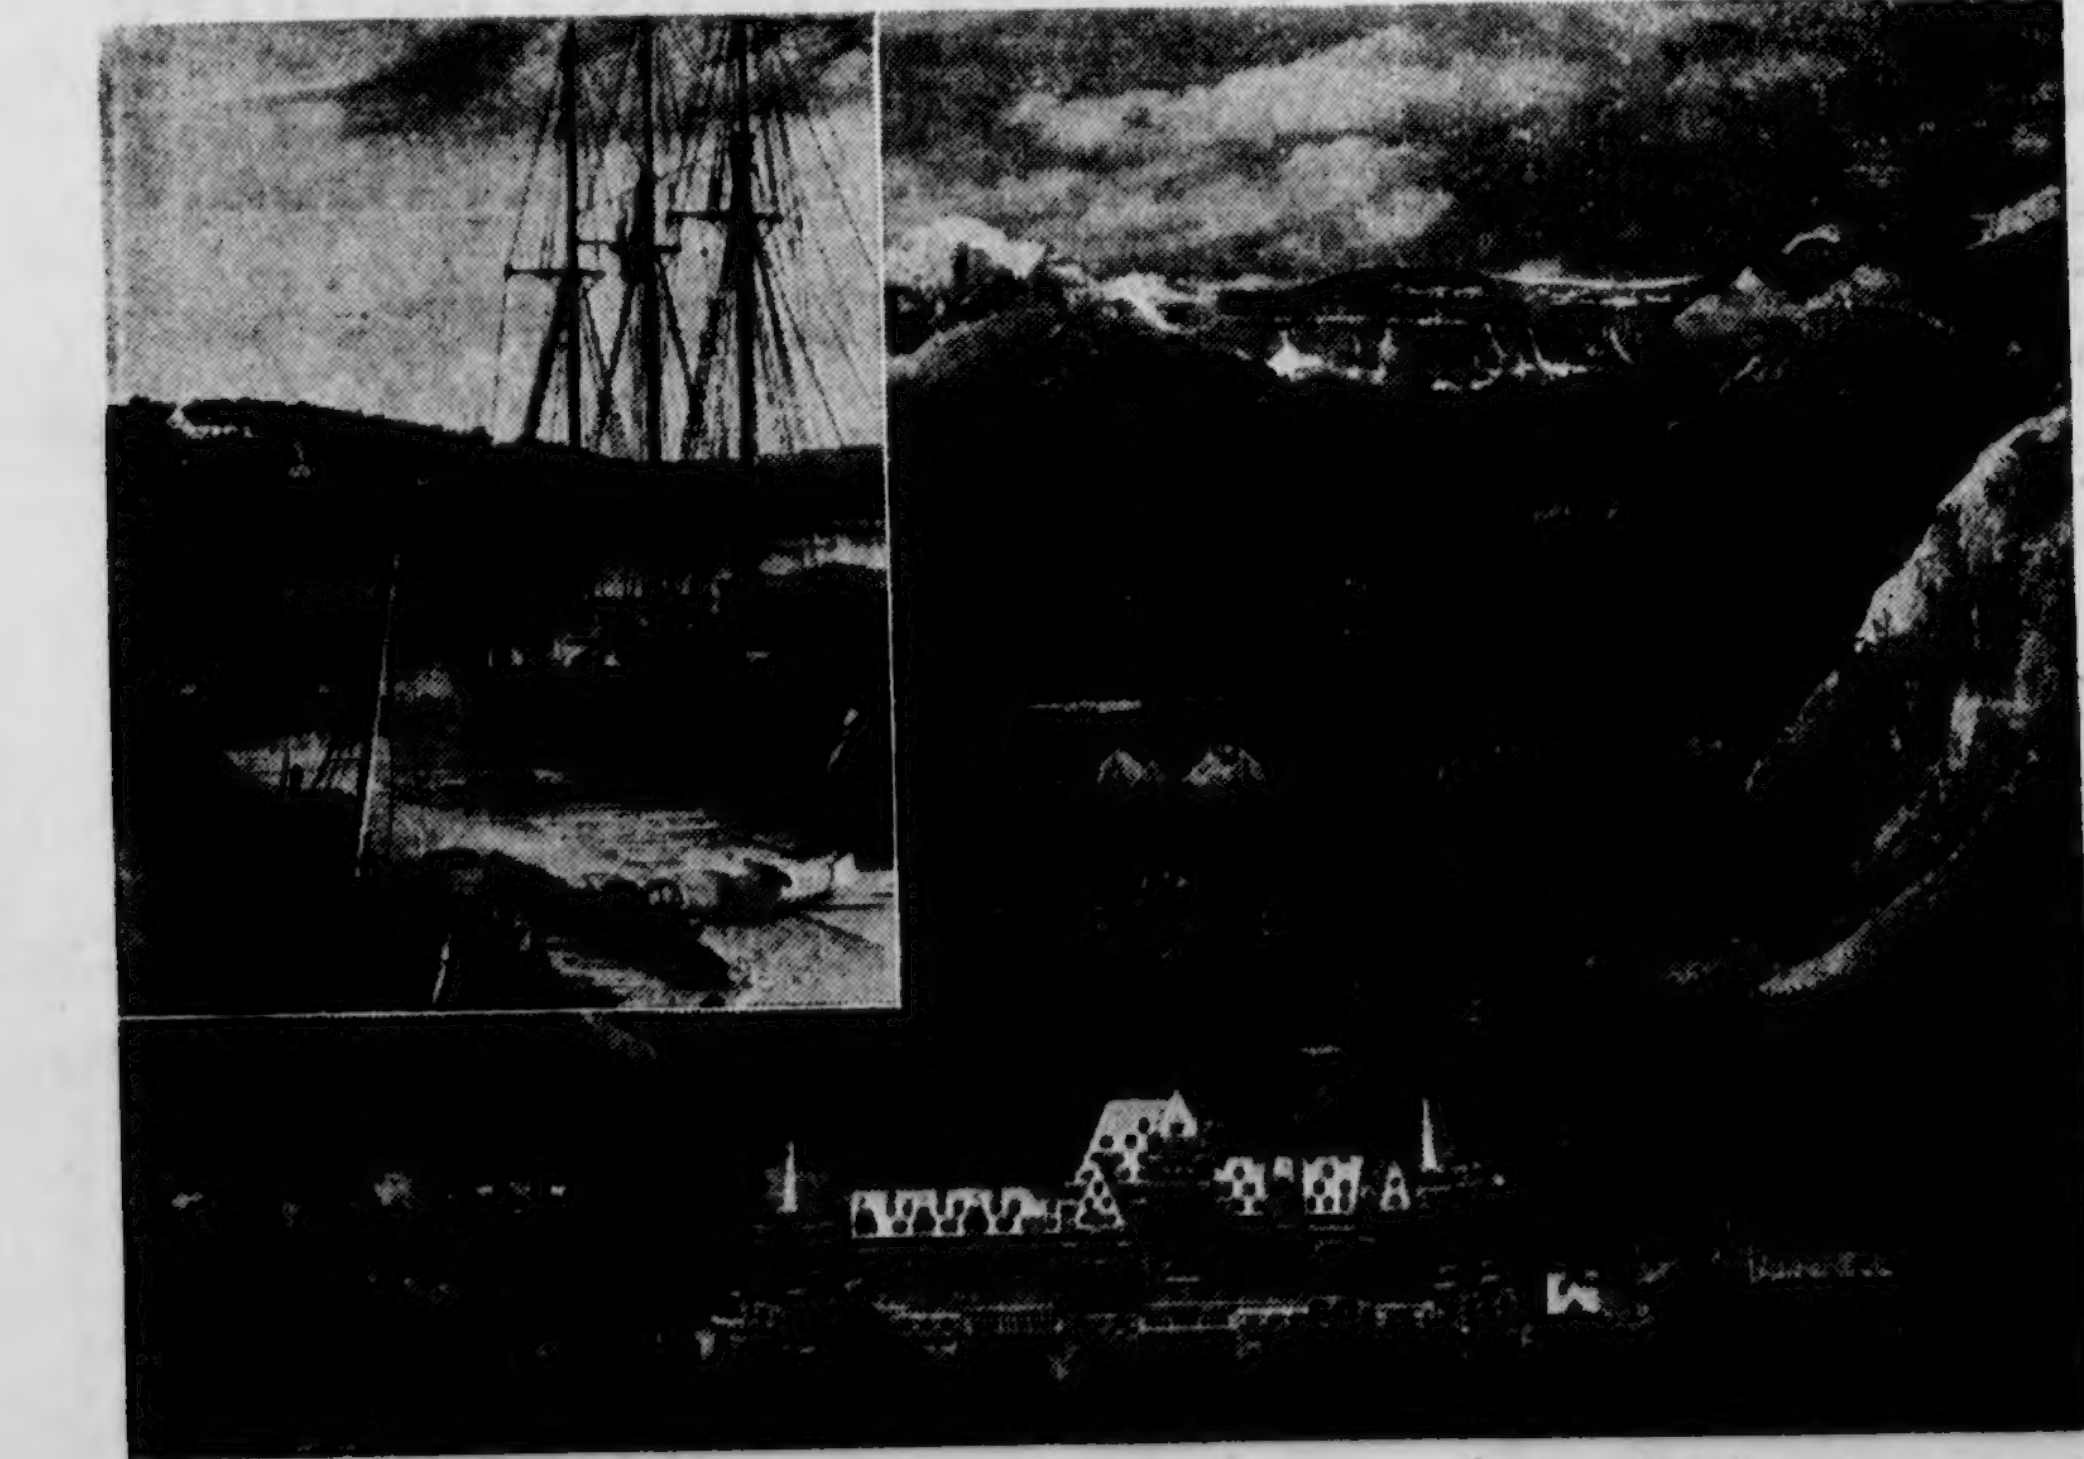

Apparently an older brother had found an old 22 revolver without a handle or trigger, and in an attempt to hammer a bullet into the gun with a pair of pliers he caused the bullet to explode. The little girl was hit in the eye and the boy suffered powder burns on his arm.

Her conditions is very grave and the doctors have not as yet attempted to remove the bullet from her head.

Fromm's many friends in town send their best wishes for a speedy recovery.

MERINGUE

Do you sometimes have meringue failures? Does it leak and shrink or show beads of moisture on the surface? These difficulties can be corrected by using proper methods.

A meringue may be hard or soft. Hard meringue contain more sugar (4-5 tablespoons to one egg white) than soft ones (usually 2 tablespoons to one egg white). Beat the sugar into the egg white during the latter half of the beating. Use very fine sugar and add gradually, beating in each addition before adding another. Overbeating the egg white before adding the sugar will tend to cause leakage. Leaky meringue are also caused by adding the meringue to a hot pie filling. Wait until it has cooled and make sure the meringue touches the pie shell all around the edge to make a tight seal. Too much sugar gives a gummy which sticks to the knife when cut. Too small an amount of sugar will give a less fluffy, tough meringue.

A hard meringue should be baked at 250 degrees F., and a soft meringue at 375 degrees F. If oven is too hot, meringue will shrink and toughen. If not hot enough, they dry and shrink.

Soft meringue are spread roughly to add attractiveness to pies, puddings and tarts. Hard meringue are baked separately and served with fruit or ice cream.

BAKED BEANS

If you forget to soak your beans overnight and wish to have baked beans for supper, here is a quick method suggested by Miss Joyce Lewis, our Provincial Department of Agriculture Nutrition Specialist.

Add dry beans to boiling water, boil two minutes, then allow to soak in the hot water for hour. Cook the beans in the water in which they were soaked. If your beans have a tough skin, add ¼ teaspoon of baking soda to one cup of beans, and 2½ cups water. Dried peas and beans are a good source of energy, minerals and B vitamins. When combined with milk, eggs or cheese, they provide protein equivalent to that of meat. For recipes try the leaflet — "Use Your Peas and Beans".

HOW much have automobile insurance rates increased?

- In relation to other car costs they've gone down. Each $100 of insurance carried takes a smaller portion of the motorist's dollar than ever before.
- But cars are more expensive. You can't insure the $2,400 car of today as cheaply as the $850 car of 1939.
- So, in dollars, how much have auto rates gone up? An average of 30% for Public Liability and Property Damage. An average of 60% for full coverage.

WHAT affects the cost of automobile insurance?

- The number of accidents
- The average cost of accidents
- The costs of doing business
- The profit or loss of the insurance company

WHY have rates gone up in dollar cost?

- Because accident rates have been soaring. Today one person is killed every four hours in Canada—one person is injured every fifteen minutes—a fender is smashed every two minutes.

- Because accident costs have been soaring. A wrecked car costs two to three times as much to replace as in 1939—a damaged car costs twice as much to repair—those fenders every two minutes cost three times as much.

- Because medical and hospital costs have increased an estimated 165%. The bill for injuries is the highest in history.
- Because average Canadian earning power is up 180%. That means higher payments to settle "lost time" claims.

THEN HOW have insurance companies kept rates from going much higher?

- By cutting operating costs. Overhead is higher but operating costs per vehicle have been slashed.
- By losing money. Auto insurance companies paid out $65,000,000 in claims last year. They lost $6,300,000 doing it.

THE REMEDY

- Reduce accidents. When the accident rate goes down—unless the cost of each accident goes "way up"—insurance rates will go down too. Competition makes that certain.

REMEMBER — The accident that doesn't happen never costs anybody a dime.

CANADIAN GARDEN SERVICE

by Gordon Lindsay Smith

Don't Make These Mistakes—Planting too close together and planting too deep are probably the most common of garden mistakes. It's a good plan to forget all about the tiny seeds one is sowing and concentrate on the size of the plants those tiny seeds will grow.

Even tiny things like alyssum or portulaca, or leaf lettuce and green onions require some space to develop properly. The safe rule is about at least half as much space between sprouted plants as they will be high when full grown. With small flowers and vegetables this means at least a couple of inches between and with sinias, peas, beans, etc., four to six inches. With dahlias and corn this should be 12 to 18 inches. The rule for depth is three times the diameter of the seed or root planted. This means that really tiny seed should be merely pressed into the soil while such things as beans and peas should be covered down about an inch deep. A few very tall flowers like gladiolus and dahlias should go down from six to 12 inches.

Transplanting—When small, practically anything can be moved if we observe a few simple rules. The main thing is to keep the roots undisturbed, to keep them away from the air and to cover quickly and firmly with fine moist soil. Watering during and immediately after transplanting is essential, unless the soil is very moist and also if possible supply a little shade for the first few hours or a day or two. With big things like trees and shrubbery, it is also advisable to tie trunks or main stem firmly to a stake to prevent the wind loosening. If there are only a few things to move, one should do the job in the evening and preferably when there is no wind. Above all it is most important to cover the roots well and keep the soil firmly pressed around them. To speed growth and lessen the shock of moving it is a good plan to sprinkle a little chemical fertilizer around but not actually touching the roots.

Cultivation—Killing weeds is only one of the reasons for cultivation. The big gain is the improvement in the texture of the soil. Cultivation lets in air, breaks up the clay lumps, makes the soil more open so that it will absorb and hold more moisture.

Negligible Cost But Vital—Nothing is so vital as the right kind of seed. Suitable seed is more than just high quality. It is seed of varieties especially selected and for Canadian conditions. In vegetables it also means that the variety has been approved and tested officially for Canada. As seed is the only factor in gardening over which one has absolute control, and the cost is negligible, nothing but the best should be considered.

A Big Show—One doesn't need a lot of time, money or skill to make a big splash with flowers even around a summer cottage, country lane or other place where a lot of regular and particular care is impossible. The best plan, in any of these cases, is to stick to things like petunias, cosmos, marigolds, zinnias and similar plants which are not only easily grown but which also will bloom steadily for weeks. With only little care at first these will practically look after themselves. It is best to have solid beds of flower, though not necessarily the same color, for the showiest results. A long bed of petunias about three feet wide, will set off any driveway, and roughly circular beds of zinnias, marigolds or some of the smaller things, will make a wonderful show. Then for the smaller garden there are all sorts of tiny flowers, like alyssum, portulaca, poppies and similar flowers which thrive even in poor soil and once well started will crowd out weeds and go on blooming until fall.

Is Soil Ready—It is a serious mistake to do any general sowing or cultivating while the ground is the least bit muddy. Heavy soil is injured and later trouble results when it is dug or worked too soon. A good test is to take a little earth and squeeze it in the hand. If when released it crumbles but does not pack it is fit for the spade or plow.

IN CANCER RESEARCH

anum pile at Chalk River, Ontario. There are only two Cobalt bombs in the world, and both are in Canada, one in London, Ontario, and the other at Saskatoon. One of the scientists working with the Saskatoon Cobalt is a 24-year-old Canadian girl, Sylvia Fedoruk, a graduate of Walkerville, Ontario, Collegiate and the University of Saskatchewan.

At Dalhousie University, Halifax, Nova Scotia, Dr. Dixie Pelluet, assistant professor of biology, is carrying out important fundamental research on the effect of various substances on the growth of cells. This has a direct bearing on cancer, since cancer is basically a problem of uncontrolled the growth of cells. This has a direct young research technician who received her training under Dr. Pelluet, was recently chosen to continue work in Britain's famed Chester Beatty Research Institute, associated with the Royal Cancer Hospital.

In the Department of Zoology, University of Western Ontario, Dr. Helen Battle has originated an idea which has become widely used in research laboratories in many parts of the world—the use of fish-eggs for cell research.

One of the two women scientists granted research fellowships by the National Cancer Institute of Canada for 1951-52 is Dr. Esther Wong, member of a notably clever Chinese family of London, Ontario. She is working in the Department of Biology, University of Western Ontario, under Dr. R. J. Rossiter, whose cancer research project is supported by the Institute.

Dr. Alice E. W. Gray is another feminine holder of an Institute fellowship. She is working in research in the University of Toronto's Department of Physics and Anatomy under Dr. H. J. C. Ireton and Dr. A. W. Ham. Dr. Gray graduated from the University of Toronto and for the past four years has been specializing in work on the electron microscope, an instrument which has opened up a whole new world of microorganisms to the scientist—life forms too small to be seen even by the most powerful conventional microscope.

At the Canadian Tumor Registry, a project of the Federal Department of Health and the National Cancer Institute, Miss Margaret Hein is in charge of the seven stages through which tumors of all sizes and shapes go before they reach the pathologists for study and classification. Miss Hein has spent many years in research and believes there is a definite field for women technicians in medical research, since women, she maintains, are more likely to have the great patience required for this type of work.

There is no better way to store fuel on a farm than in a storage tank!

MORE FARMERS USE ESSO FARM TANKS

It's not only a matter of convenience—easy refueling—getting away from the bother of deliveries in drums every few days; an Esso farm tank keeps fuel clean—cuts engine wear, ensures better performance. It's practically a must for diesel fuel.

There is no waste in refueling. Reduces spillage, cuts down fire hazard—there's less danger of losing buildings and valuable equipment due to fire.

Esso farm tanks are heavy welded steel, guaranteed not to leak. Three sizes: 200—500 and 1000 gals. You'll find an Esso farm storage tank a real asset every day and in every way.
